Students play a very important role in the preparing and serving of our food.

Well Served is a division of Out of A Jam, Inc. with a mission to expose students to the concepts and principles of culinary arts. Students learn the knowledge and skills required to perform the functions of food service personnel, including sanitation, hot and cold food preparation, cooking procedures, baking, and table set up and service. Students who become certified, have the opportunity to gain practical experience by working in our industry-standard kitchen and servicing events.

Testimonials

“ We purchased a 7-course mystery dinner from Out of a Jam to enjoy with 6 of our friends. The food was delicious and impeccable, the service was superb; they even brought themed decorations. Want to know the best part? I was able to watch my wife enjoy herself rather than worry about the details that OOAJ already had covered!”

– Bryan
